

JOHNSON, MOHR VISIT CHILDREN LEAD SERVICES

Pre-Thes May Continue Leading Sunday Vespers.

Sunday evening, Feb. 16, Lester Johnson and Vernon Mohr were privileged to have an evening meal and to participate in the vesper services of the Waverly Children's Home. This was the first step taken in an endeavor to create a closer relationship between the college and the home.

The Pre-theological society was invited out to the home for its regular meeting on the ninth of February and an invitation was extended by Rev. Becker to the society in general that they come out to the home in groups of two or three and have a meal with the children on Sunday evenings. Mr. Mohr and Mr. Johnson were the first to accept the invitation.

Guests at Supper

The supper was served at 5:30 with some of the children acting as waitresses. According to the visitors the meal was excellent and certainly showed that the children get the best of food.

After supper, Vespers was led by Mr. Mohr who addressed the children and explained to them that the college wanted to know more about their home and what they did out there. Mr. Johnson

Reimler, George Baseler, and Victor Hounig. Reimler and Hounig are well known at Wartburg for their prowess on the trumpet. Baseler plays the "slap bass."

After the service the two pre-thes spent some time getting acquainted with some of the children who were very anxious to know them and show them various things that they were interested in. One of the girls showed them a painting she had done. One of the boys asked them over to the boys' house to see a tiny gas engine the was going to be put in a model airplane he had built.

"The children are very interesting to us and also interested in what we do here at the college," said Mr. Mohr.

It is the hope of Mr. Johnson and Mr. Mohr that their primary step will be followed up by other members of the Pre-The Society and also other social groups of the campus.

"Christ, Church and You" Theme of Convocations.

CONVOCATIONS

Monday, February 10, Rev. M. O. Jahr, formerly of Strawberry Point, Iowa delivered the convocation address. Speaking on the seventh petition of the Lord's Prayer, Rev. Jahr said that the petition which is the most necessary and the most used of all the petitions is the seventh petition, "deliver us from evil." Many events and circumstances in our lives which we do not understand are God's will. Though it is sometimes difficult for us to realize this, these circumstances are merely God's way of training us for the life to come. "It is through these very trials and temptations that we really come to know God and we must learn to subject our will to that supreme will of God."

MOVIES SHOWN

"Know your money" was presented in a movie reel on Tuesday by representative Daniels of the F. B. I. The picture dealt with the efforts of the government to curb conflicting activities. A very interesting analysis of money, including information on how to detect counterfeit coins and bills was portrayed.

LORD'S PRAYER CONCLUDED

The Reverend E. A. Hanf concluded the series of chapel talks on the Lord's Prayer on Wednesday, February 12, by presenting a discussion of the conclusion of the Lord's Prayer. It is interesting and perhaps new to many of us, to find that the conclusion, or the doxology as it is known in the original prayer given to us by Jesus, but was added to the New Testament during the third century. The source of the doxology is Chronicles 29 in the Old Testament.

It was the custom of the early church to conclude all prayers with praise to God and subsequently such a hymn of praise was added to the "perfect prayer." "Amen is the seal of our faith and trust," concluded Rev. Hanf.

RELIGIOUS EMPHASIS WEEK OBSERVED

Rev. Yochum, member of the college Mission Team opened the series of convocations during religious emphasis week with the theme, "The Church and You," Monday, February 17.

Carrying out his idea very effectively by the use of an equation, Rev. Yochum brought out that we start with Christ who is the life, the head, and the glory of the Church.

Next to Christ the church values the "I." We become dear to Christ as he becomes dear to us. This relationship between Christ and us is the most important thing in life. When we add "you" to our equation we have fellowship. The "I" and the "U" should work side by side. When Christ is the initiator of fellowship or true fellowship is the source of vitality, zeal and love. Raise the "U" to the nth power and all people are included. We are not to exclude anyone for God's love has barred no one. The "I" stands for church, "Where two or three are gathered together"

"we have a church. There should be a church in every home—every home should be a church. This unit is banded together into a congregation and congregations are banded together into a synod. Several individual challenges were expressed by Rev. Yochum. He asks us to consider: are we in the right relationship with Christ? Do we think of other Christians as being one of us, dedicated to a common ideal and to a common purpose? A motto which has been the personal guide for Rev. Yochum is worth remembering. "The most that I can do is the least that I dare do for myself and for my Church."

CHRIST AND YOU

The second series of talks during religious emphasis week was delivered by Rev. Tanner on Tuesday morning. In order to come into a right relationship with Christ we must come to realize our own helplessness. We can't make this discovery too soon in life, for as soon as this submission begins Christ's rule in our lives begins. Christ teaches us submissions by the example, "Thy will, not mine be done." It is only when we realize our helplessness, that the two we need, Christ the Savior—we as the saved.

We cannot realize our potentialities till Christ has a hold upon our lives. We must realize that without Him we are nothing, all our education—our culture—cannot accomplish what Christ can in our lives. Christ is the only one able to bring out our full resources because He is the only person who has successfully contended with sin.

YOU IN PARTICULAR

The Wednesday speaker, Rev. Yochum pointed out that the most effective personality is that one which is unified. To integrate our lives we must think and live on one level.

The goal of every individual is success but the Christian believes that the highest success is the fulfillment of God's destiny for us, to do the highest and best of what he is able in the light of God's love.

Our program for success is symbolized in S.S.S.—Spirituality, Stewardship, and Service. Spirituality presupposes reverence, entails a conscience which adheres to ideals.

Stewardship, as Rev. Yochum put it, is being able to account for our money. The danger involved with money are many. Jesus spoke more about money than any other earthly thing. Therefore, we should use it in a true spirit of stewardship.

Service, or the expression of love is the final point in our program. True service is accompanied by joy, joy in serving others. If we cannot physically serve others we can pray for them but our prayer should be accompanied by love. We should be eager to serve. Spread the "I" over the "U" in Christian fellowship and we have love as our symbol, the cross which will help us attain our goal, success.

SEEKING

Using as his theme, "the son of Man is come to seek and to save that which was lost," Prof. Oltersberg gave the Thursday morning talk in chapel.

The purpose for us this last week has been to seek for Jesus and to open our lives to Him. If we seek earnestly and truly He will be found. The story of how Zachaeus sought and found Jesus should be a good example for us. If we are like Zachaeus, search humbly, earnestly, and with an acknowledgment of our sins Jesus will come to our lives.

"Nothing is certain in this world, but the one thing stands firm, there is salvation in Jesus."

TIRED OF JESUS

The fact that all of us do become tired of religion, Jesus and the Word of God was pointed out in the concluding convocation of Religious Emphasis week, Friday, Feb. 21, by Rev. R. C. Schluter. Just as we tire of sweets so we become tired of Jesus. Such a condition arises only when we do not realize the value of Jesus. The fact of Christ must be accepted just as we must continue to eat daily.

If we, during the past week, have only received things about Jesus and not His essence, "His person in our lives, the week has been in vain. Christ must be in us, it is not sufficient merely to talk about Him, to sing about Him. He must be a part of us. When

"ICEBOUND" MAKES HIT

Excellent Cooperation and Direction Make for Success of Play.

By Virginia Wagner
"Look out there — frozen — just like we are, cold and hard, that's what we are — Icebound — all of us — nothing to do but think and talk, and nothing to think and talk about, but the mean, petty things, things that don't mean much, but grow to be bigger and bigger the more we think about them—"

Thus Louis Fabritius set the mood for "Icebound," the Owen Davis Pulitzer prize play which the Wartburg college dramatics club presented in the college auditorium last night.

A large audience came expecting a good production following the success of the club's first play but found that an even better show was before them—one which far surpassed their highest expectations; a perfect play, performed perfectly under the direction of Prof. Don Traquist.

"The success of 'Icebound' rested on several factors," said Prof. Traquist. "One of these was the excellent cooperation from all those connected with the production, their earnest seriousness in attending rehearsals, and working." (He failed to mention the excellent direction.)

Some of the more interesting sidelights on the play were revealed. Just to prove the smoothness with which the action proceeded, it is interesting to note that not one word of prompting was needed. Another fact gleaned from the play was that Al Dillemluth was too small for his 1922 edition trousers and had to wear a towel under his belt in order to prevent any humiliation. No one noticed it. Here's another "oddy": Due to the lack of space on the gym stage, it is impossible to cross from one side to the other behind scenes. But when action necessitated that Orin (Herman Kullmann, Jr.) go out on the top side of the stage and return from the left, the ever-alert stage manager quickly helped him out of the dressing-room window in order that he could come in the west stage door and enter the scene from the proper place.

Yes, it was a difficult play to do, but the Wartburg Players did it; and did it in their finest style.

"CHRIST SPOKE WITH AUTHORITY"

"Christ spoke with authority." That was the opinion of such as were present to hear Him. A teacher without an audience is no teacher. An audience without a teacher to listen to is helpless. "Christ spoke with authority." Here we find the proper relationship between teacher and scholar.

Christ was a great teacher and had a large audience. Even by many non-Christians Christ is acclaimed as the greatest teacher of all times. In a recent article in "Liberty" Mahatma Gandhi of India wrote a glowing article about his teacher, Jesus Christ, who have written as well.

Christ taught "principles of life" which would bring peace, prosperity and happiness to those who followed them. Isn't that what we all desire and seek after? We go to college in order to prepare ourselves for such a blissful and useful life.

Remember well, Christ's first principle was "Be right with God." "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." "What will it profit a man though he gain the whole world and lose his soul?" Would we follow the great teacher and leader, Christ, then we need to seek our education in close relationship to God. Wartburg college has this as its highest aim; education in close harmony with God. The alumni appreciates that now, and the present students should learn to appreciate it, and future students should make their plans with this in mind.

Louis C. Krebs, Alumni President.

Auditorium Will Seat Over 200 Persons

26-FOOT STAGE AVAILABLE

500 Folding Chairs
Provided for 41 by 72
Foot Auditorium.

One of the major features of the new parish house is the 26-foot auditorium capable of seating over 700 people for a stage performance. The easily entered into a banquet hall where 350 to 400 persons can be served.

The stage at the north end of the auditorium is 26 feet wide and elevated approximately 40 inches from the main floor. The floor of the auditorium is without slope and all the seats are moveable so that the room may be used for a large number of different kinds of events.

Arrangements have already been made to have the Wartburg college lecture series numbers in the auditorium, and many other college events will be held in the building.

The main entrance of the building opens into the auditorium, and directly above the entrance is a balcony which seats 200 people. The seats in the balcony are the only stationary seats in the building.

Five hundred folding chairs have been purchased for the main floor. The chairs are compressed metal folding chairs, with rubber coverings on the feet to prevent marring the highly finished black-wood floor.

The floor, the first of its kind to be used in this part of the state, is made of wood. The blocks are grooved at the edges so that they fit together, and are cemented to the floor. The walls were used in laying the entire floor, and the finish of the floor is unknown except for the cracks between the blocks.

The blocks are hard maple about five-eighths inch thick, and were finished before they were laid. An ordinary wax coating is all that is needed to keep them in place. They are so laid that the grain of each adjoining block runs in a different direction and the color of the floor varies according to the manner in which the light strikes it.

The walls of the auditorium are finished in several different shades of light colored paint which blend in with the color of the floor and break the monotony of a single colored wall.

SCENE OF NEXT WARTBURG LYCEUM NUMBER

Wartburg's next lyceum number, a lecture by Theodore Bosch, will be presented in the new parish hall auditorium, Mar. 11. It is expected that the new building may become the scene of many of Wartburg's leading functions in the future, including the artist series, plays, and formal banquets. All of which will depend, of course, on arrangements which have not been made as yet.

Children of the St. Paul's parochial school will try out the stage in the new parish house auditorium as they rehearse for the operetta "Little Boy Blue" which they will give Tuesday evening. The photo also shows the "visibility" which is possible from the balcony in the auditorium.

At either side of the front of the stage, steps lead up to it past built-in wall cases. One of the doors to the stage itself can be seen at the left rear; there is a similar door at the right.

In the foreground can be seen another unique feature of the building, the "square-black" flooring, laid ready-finished and cemented to the concrete base without the use of nails.

Waverley college has a war relief workroom.

Notes From A Seminarian's Diary

Feb. 5.—Dr. Jagow speaks to us during the Wednesday morning retreat. In the afternoon the students together with the faculty accept an invitation to a tea given by the Presbyterian seminary at the University of Dubuque. In the evening the board of regents meets in the faculty room.

Feb. 6.—Problems concerning the Luther League are discussed in the evening with "Ted" Gebhard presiding over the informally assembled group. John Vagts, mid-dler, conducts services at the Dubuque City Mission, with "Leo" Helm, junior, acting as pianist.

Feb. 7.—A three act play presented by St. John's Players from the church of the same name attracted many seminarians on this Friday evening. Rev. and Mrs. Errest Stuebeling of Elkton, Minnesota arrived in Dubuque and visit former acquaintances. The former graduated with the class of '30.

Feb. 8.—This day passes as most Saturdays. Nothing unusual occurs and nothing unusual is recorded. Life at the seminary goes on in its routine way and soon we pass on to another day.

Feb. 9.—Carl Kalkwarf, mid-dler, conducts services at Dunder and Lamont, Iowa. In the evening Marvin Schroeder, senior, speaks on the parable of the "Sower and the Seed" during the "Wartburg Hour of Prayer and Song", the weekly broadcast over station WKBW. And we have chicken for dinner.

Feb. 10.—At noon we eat the chicken left over from yesterday. During the evening chapel service we hear Erwin Knatt, senior, preaching in English. As we leave the chapel we see a full moon beaming down upon the slate roof from the eastern sky.

Feb. 11.—The Mission Society holds its monthly meeting and we hear Prof. Salzman discussing the problems of home missions. The Elk's club from the city of Dubuque presents two short films immediately following in the assembly room, supposedly characterizing American people, and the American way of life. We watch, and we watch, and then we go back to our rooms and conclude that in so far as the latter event of the evening is concerned, our time up until this point has been wasted.

Feb. 12.—Three volley ball teams have been organized now and this afternoon the first of a series of tournament games is played off. Harry Rappath, senior, preaches in English during the evening service.

Feb. 13.—Tonight I sit and listen to my radio and I hear that the debt limit is pushed up to only $5 billion dollars now. Ben Ackerman, mid-dler, is the preacher tonight, and Werner Spiegel also a mid-dler, conducts services at the Dubuque City Mission. Rain fell during most of this dark and cloudy day.

Feb. 14.—Today the faculty leaves for Capital University to address a series of lectures to the students in the theological seminary at that place. They will return to Dubuque next Wednesday. Alfred Boerler, mid-dler, leaves for his home in Austin, Texas on an evening train. Clifford Burack, mid-dler, preaches.

Feb. 15.—Rev. R. F. Kibler, San Diego, Calif., president of the Calif. District, arrives today and remains with us until Monday. He plans to lecture to us on his last day here. Only twenty-four students are present for the evening meal.

Feb. 16.—During the "Wartburg Hour of Prayer and Song" Mr. Edward Wagner, student senior, acts as speaker basing his sermonette on the first of the beatitudes as found in the fifth chapter of the Gospel according to St. Matthew. The vocal music is supplied by "Ted" Gebhard accompanied by Mrs. Richard Fruehling. After the broadcast a few of us go down to visit Rev. and Mrs. Goetz and listen to recording made of the above mentioned broadcast.

Feb. 17.—There are no classes on this second day of the week since the faculty is in Columbus, Ohio lecturing to the students of the theological seminary of Capital University. At nine in the morning Rev. H. F. Kibler speaks to us concerning church conditions in general and mission problems in the California District. The thermometer registers only five above us this extremely windy day.

Feb. 18.—Since classes were not to meet on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week many have left the campus for this unofficial and unscheduled five day recess. Today we number only twenty-four, but some of the brethren are beginning to drift back on this third day of the week to our school on the hill. Column fourteen—Outstanding event of the week—Dimitrie Odo Mar-tius returned from Waverly to Dubuque in 3½ hours—via thumb!

$47,000 STRUCTURE COMPLETED BY WAVERLY CONGREGATION

This new building, the $47,000 Parish House of the St. Paul's Lutheran church in Waverly, will be dedicated in a three-day period of activities which will open Sunday with a service in the adjoining church. This view of the new building is from the southwest of the structure, which faces south onto Second Ave. N. W.

The central part of the structure houses the entrance lobby and the auditorium, while on either side are grouped society rooms, the kitchen, and a number of classrooms.

Rules Severely Restrict Lives of Choir Members

Rest, no Candy
No Shouting
Says Maestro.

The Wartburg college choir rules came out the other day. Since then there has been no rest for this.

For instance this morning a Psych. test was scheduled. After studying last night till 4:30, I got to bed till 6:45 (cf. p. 3, Rest, no 1, also, p. 3, Rest, no 3, also, p. 3, Rest, no 2, 1 stayed in bed but was awake since 5:15, worrying about the test. Ah, 6:45 is here, and I am there, studying my Psych. It's 7:10 now and the breakfast bell is ringing. I can go to this morning—I've got a Psych. test, whoops—I almost forgot (cf. p. 3, Food, no 1). "Oh, Romeo, will you bring back a roll?" "Thank." Hurrah, more studying!

It's 7:55 and I'm washing my way to Luther hall. My overshoes and overcoat (cf. p. 3, General, no. 1) slow me up and I'm almost late. The bell has rung and no one appears. Miss Weiss enters and calmly announces, "No Psych. today." A shout goes up but, sadly, enuf I can't join it. (cf. 4, Voice, no 1).

Back in the dorm, I visit E. who offers me some home-made candy. No thank you, E. He stares, open mouthed and I show him the rules" (cf. p. 1, Food, no. 2, 4, note, also, p. 4, Food, no. 1, 4, 5). Let's tempt me more I politely leave and study in the library. At 10:15 I find that the mailman has blessed me with a package from home, but, alas, it is filled with cookies and cake and candy. You did killjoys!

At the table this noon, the lesser halves joined also. (cf. p. 3, General, no. 3, 6, also, p. 5 General (cont), no. 15). And how for my exercise (cf. p. 3, Exercise, also, p. 4, Exercise, no. 1, 2, 3). And these are only a few of the rules!

These precepts have been submitted for the purpose of building high resistance to disease and maintaining a fine physical condition in each member so that he may be in position to contribute his utmost to the success of the choir. We thank you Prof. Liebmohr, for this set which will be for our good and we hope to cooperate to our fullest ability.

Whoops, it's 10:29 and Prof. H. cherub must be in bed in one minute, so—

Ghite

CALENDAR OF CONVOCATIONS

START 3-DAY PROGRAM WITH SUNDAY SERVICE

Conclude Program With Banquet Tues. Evening.

Starting at 10 o'clock Sunday morning with a regular service a formal three-day dedication program for the opening of the new St. Paul's Lutheran parish will begin.

Dr. W. P. Hieronymus of Columbus, Ohio will deliver the dedication sermon during the regular service Sunday morning.

Dedication plans include sessions at 10 o'clock Sunday and Monday and Tuesday evenings. The formal dedication service will be Sunday morning Sunday afternoon there will be an open house and tea for all visitors to the parish house.

Sunday evening a musicale will be presented under the direction of Prof. E. G. Hiesten.

Monday night the children of the parish school will present an operetta, "Little Blue Bird."

Tuesday night the festivities will be concluded with a banquet. Several short speeches have been planned but there will be no principal speaker.

Invitations to attend the dedication ceremonies have been sent to all nearby Lutheran congregations, and the general public is also invited to attend all of the ceremonies.

WARTBURG'S WINCHELL

Did you notice the resemblance of Rev. Jah's profile to that of our president, F. R. ? It was very noticeable when he turned to the side the other day when he spoke in convocation.

The fellows tell us that our freshman, John Rohr, is a pretty good at making a fool out of himself in Greek class. We understand though, that he neither usually has the upper hand.

We always figured that E. Schumacher and his one and only saw each other plenty during the year. After all, who else studies together in the library and even in Old Main. However, the other night we found him preparing a cute little note for her. Last love wonderful!

I think there's an old saying about "old love never dies," or something similar. I'm sure that our friends from Waverly can feel the pangs of the old affair occasionally.

Nice basketball game to close up the season I think. Can't help but remember the football season—everything started out pretty lousy but ended up pretty nice. Basketball kept up this way until the end of the season. I'm sure we'll feel as enthusiastic about next year as we do about football.

I wonder if it was the pretty girl polish that Jim wore that gets Edna Kleen. Talking about fingernail polish, I like the red nail polish that the girls always wear to accent their fingernails.

Seeing as our dear editor is becoming about getting the stores in on time I'll close this copy now. Until next time, then, I remain your campus correspondent, Wartburg's Winchell.

World Day of Prayer To Be Next Friday

The World Day of Prayer, to be noted by all women of all lands on the first Friday in Lent, will be observed in Waverly in an hour service at the Evangelical church next Friday afternoon, Feb. 28, beginning at 2:30 o'clock. This will be the local link in a chain of prayer which binds in Australia and follows the sun the full 24 hours.

An 8,000,000-volt atom-smashing machine is under construction at the University of Notre Dame.

Music Notes

Wartburg's men's quartette were guests at the Waverly Chamber of Commerce banquet Monday, Feb. 10, where they gave two selections, "Climb Up the Mountain" and "The Mosquito." This group also gave a program for the Waverly high school on Wednesday, Feb. 12.

Ruth Kiefer presented a euphonium solo at the Sigma Kappa hall at Wartburg hall on Friday, Feb. 14. She played "Castles in the Air" by Clay Smith and was accompanied by Victoria Volzke.

Richard Bunge sang "Consider Me" at the Sigma Kappa hall on Saturday, Feb. 16.

FROSH SPONSOR CUPID'S PARTY

Guests Publish Paper in Thirty Minutes; (Why Can't We?)

The annual all student Valentine party sponsored by the freshman class was held in the college gym February 24.

The gym was decorated with red and white streamers, red and white hearts, while Cupid and his arrow was the center of attraction as he hung from the center ceiling.

The high point of the entertainment was reached when the guests were divided into several parties, each of which was given ten minutes to write up a newspaper. All entries of journalism were turned to the four winners, became very evident when the newspapers were read.

The evening closed with the usual refreshments.

The Valentine party is an annual project of the freshman class. Chairmen of the various committees were Ruth Poe, entertainers, Eugene Volzke, refreshments, and Virginia Wagner, decorations.

Editor's note: Will someone please send us the patent on that 30-minute newspaper process?

FIVE YEARS AGO AT WARTBURG

According to the Feb. 3, 1936 issue of the Trumpet the student body had just completed their winter exams and were starting the second semester with four new students.

The Knights had defeated the Milwaukee Engineers by a score of 37 to 31, and had a record of winning seven of the ten games they had played so far in the season of 1936.

Prof. Heist had just published new program for mixed choruses entitled "The Heavens Are Telling." This was the fourth of Prof. Heist's works to have been published.

At an all school party the entertainment consisted of a mock trial program for mixed choruses entitled "The Heavens Are Telling." This was the fourth of Prof. Heist's works to have been published.

Rev. Roy Olson, Minnesota State Prison Council, spoke at a special convocation on the subject, "Crime prevention, the challenge of the hour."

KNIGHTS GIVE LUTHER SCARE BEFORE LOSING

Strotman Drops in 13 Points To Lead Knights.

Led by Red Strotman, freshman guard, the Waburg five, threw a good scare into the Norsemen from Luther college, Decatur, Iowa, on Saturday, Feb. 8, before being nosed out 27-23 in the first game ever played on the Waburg court by the two teams.

The Norsemen drew first blood but a field goal by Red Strotman tied up the ball game. A bucket by Schaller, Knight center, put the Knights into the lead which they held until the closing minutes of the first half when a bucket by T. Jacobson, Norse center, tied the score at the half period, 10 all.

The Norse opened the second half fast and drew ahead 21-12 before the Knights settled down. Then Red Strotman got "hot" and poured in three long shots for a many buckets to close up the im-gun. With the score 23-20 Preus, Luther forward, slipped in for two buckets to seal the ball game for the Norse. A last minute desperate attempt by E. Obenauger resulted in a nicely executed play and a basket.

Red Strotman stole the show with five buckets and three gifts shots besides an excellent game on defense. Larson was high-point man for Luther with three buckets.

DUBUQUE U. TOPS WABURG

H. Obenauger, Strotman Play Outstanding Ball for Knight Quintet.

The Dubuque Spartans found the going a little tough in their march to the conference championship but managed to win the game 42-22 from the Waburg Knights in the local gymnasium on Feb. 18.

The defensive fury of the two teams kept the game interesting. So close were the Spartan guards that the Knight forwards were able to score exactly three free throws.

Schwartz opened the scoring for Dubuque, and getting able assistance from Leask and Lussow built up a 20-0 half time lead. Seven of the nine points for Waburg were scored by Turly Obenauger, freshman guard sensation.

The Knights matched basket on basket with the cool Dubuque basketballers in the second canto. They scored 18 points to Dubuque's 12 after the intermission. Strotman, the other freshman guard for Waburg, found his range and sank three beautiful shots from far out on the floor. Lussow, however, proved to be the undoing for the Knights. He scored six goals and two free throws to lead the evening's scorers.

Turly Obenauger and Red Strotman scored 10 and 6 points respectively for Waburg.

HERE'S HOW WE DID IT!

The time is 10:40 p. m., Thursday. Three people are left in the Trumpet office. The pile of copy in the basket has steadily risen through the evening. Now it has stopped growing.

Alas! The material for Saturday's issue is at an end. Tomorrow morning two linotype machines will be pounding away on Schenck copy and the operators will be signing off each galley of slugs with a frantic, "More! More! More!"

"How much stuff we go?" queries one of the three.

"When you get that typed, a figure will have about twelve galleyes," says the second one in a harassed tone.

"That means we have six to go? Holy Cats!"

"Well, don't gripe. Get busy and write some files—no, put some heads on these stories. Put a '22 on that convention story, and here's one for the evening."

"And so the three continue their hasty, twisting, rewriting, heading, and editing."

A cold wave appears spontaneously on the third assistant's brow. "Who on earth wrote this story?"

"What difference does that make? Just try and do something with it," replies one of the others.

"Hey, get your feet off my paper!" says the first. "Who do you think you are. Why don't you put your feet on your own jacket?"

"Okay! Okay! Then take your feet off the typewriter. I warn you, it's the only."

"Oh, do you type?" comes the sarcastic retort. "Pray, what are you going to type?"

"Something to fill this newspaper," replies the second one.

"And so he sat down and wrote what you have just read. Reader, the joke's on you!"

FRESHMAN FINDS COLLEGE LIFE A BIT RUMBY

Ready for a hard-luck story? It's about Lylene Carper, freshman at Eastern New Mexico college, Poekies.

On the first day of school this year she fell upstairs at Woman's hall and suffered minor bruises. Then she developed a recalcitrant appendix and had to have an operation. Shortly afterward, in what she calls a blue train, she sat down on a hot radiator, arising the reform with alacrity and some pain.

Next she was accidentally bit by a playful girl friend and sported a black eye. Now Lylene has a broken nose, acquired when she walked into a door that should have been open and wasn't.

Small wonder that Lylene is a bit cynical these days.—By A. C. P.

Wartburg Beats Wisconsin 36-22

H. OBENAUER, STROTSMAN LEAD WAY TO VICTORY

Defeat Miners Second Time This Season.

The Wartburg Knights broke their current losing streak by scoring a well-earned victory over the Wisconsin Miners at Plattville on Feb. 21.

After several weeks of strenuous conference competition, the Knights found a little breathing spell to defeat their Warriors enemies the second time this season. They scored a 30 to 24 victory in the first game for both teams last December.

Led by Koblish, who swished the net for 22 points to lead the evening scores, the Wartburg players scored to build a commanding 12 to 3 lead. In the closing minutes of the half, however, the Knights found their scoring range to tie the score 16 to 16 at the intermission.

Led by Strotzman and H. Obenauer, the Knights proved too fast for their opponents and led through the second half. At one time they held a 12 point majority, but three quick baskets by the Miners closed the gap to six at the game ended.

H. Obenauer and Strotzman, Wartburg's sensational Freshman guards, played the key victory. They scored 11 and 10 points respectively.

WESTERN UNION RALLY DOWNS KNIGHTS 33-32

Wartburg Wilts To Lose in Last Few Minutes.

Unable to cope with a furious Western Union rally in the closing minutes, the Wartburg Knights lost a 33-32 Conference basketball game on the local floor, Feb. 13.

Leading 15-11 at intermission and 29-24 with but a few minutes to go, the Knights seemed well on their way to victory. Led by Landwehr who scored 12 of his 12 points in the last quarter, however, the Miners closed the game with a 10-0 rally.

The Wartburg defense lagged and soon found himself under the basket and scored. Landwehr fouled Schuler who made four of three free throws for Western Union.

Play was ragged throughout the game, and the weakness of the Knights on rebound in the last quarter spelled their defeat. Captain Heist paced the local scorers with 20 points. He was followed by Tuffy Obenauer with 6 points on 2 goals and 2 charities. Schuler led the Badger offense plus with 4 goals and 4 gifts.

Behind The Varsity

WITH E. A. SCHICK

SPASMODIC BASKETBALL

If asked what word characterizes Wartburg's 1940-41 basketball team, a close follower of the games would certainly be inclined to say, "The Knights are spasmodic." The reasons for that statement are obvious. The Knights opened the season with two excellent non-conference victories. They played the way! But the way was rather short. In the next few games poor basketball was played against weak and strong teams alike. Then Luther came to Wartburg to play a game in which the Knights did practically everything but beat the highly-touted Norsemen.

Playing one of the finest defensive battles ever seen on the floor, the Knights fought with the well-known Wartburg spirit. Controlling a large percentage of the rebound, the taller Norsemen and playing a phenomenally spirited game, the Knights looked great. Stanley the Red Strotzman stole the show with thirteen points on long shots that really astounded the crowd (and the Norsemen). Quoting one of the officials, "The game Wartburg played against Luther was as official, as any that could have been seen in any part of the state."

The Knights continued their fury by journeying to Oskaloosa to give the Penn Quakers the fight of their lives. Captain Heist and Harold the Tuff Obenauer paved the way with nine points each.

With the results of these two games in mind, every Wartburger down to the last man (and woman) thought, "Just wait 'till Western Union comes here." Well, Western Union came here and left to score a 33-32 victory. What happened? Wartburg enjoyed a comfortable lead to the last few minutes. Suddenly everything seemed to go wrong, and before we could catch our breath, the game was lost. Was it the unkid fates? Was it some invisible force from somewhere that suddenly turned the tide? Your guess is as good as mine. But one thing is known and sure. Had it not been for a few of those know-it-alls in the Wartburg cheering section the game might have been won. There was still half a minute to go. Wartburg had possession of the ball, and what did loyal Wartburg fans do but yell, "Shoot! Shoot!" Well, One shot from way out when there still had been time for a possible set and victory. Can you blame him? I blame those few Wartburgers sitting directly above and to the right of the scorer's desk.

Again showing a reversal of form the Knights made it a battle for the conference-leading Dubuque Spartans. Tuff Obenauer was the spark. He made the first seven points for Wartburg and added three charities in the second period.

That is the story of Wartburg's basketball—stiff competition against strong teams and faint glimmers against the weaker teams! Why? ? ?

MUSINGS

Here are some unusual happenings in the Wartburg-Luther game. Wartburg committed no fouls in the first quarter. Luther missed five out of five free throws in the second quarter.

After a little check-up it was found that Tuffy Obenauer got eight jump balls against Dubuque while the other Knights together got twelve.

The St. Ambrose flash, Freshman Conroy, has already broken the conference scoring record set last year by Upper Iowa's Alderson. He scored 210 points in 15 games.

Keeping in the spirit of Washington's cherry scene, Tuffy Obenauer ate a piece of cherry pie before the Dubuque game. The result? He was a sick boy for part of the game. That's why they call him George Washington Obenauer.

Dunkel played Wartburg ahead of Western Union and Cornell in rating Iowa's basketball teams.

Have you heard this one? During the second half of the Upper Iowa game, Strotzman was exactly satisfied with the way things were going. The ref called a foul on him, and Red calmly and casually asked in a voice somewhat softer than the roar of a Curtis P-5, full throttle, what it was for. "What's the matter," said the irate ref, "can't you hear it?" "No!" retorted our good friend Red, "but I can sure smell it!"

Harstad opened his interesting basketball career with his appearance against Dubuque.

The following names occurred in Wartburg's box score in the Luther paper: Hermits (that's supposed to be Heist), Oberhauser and Obenauer for the Obenaus. And the writer must have thought that Strotzman was two people for the spell it Strotzman.

CONFERENCE PROPOSALS

George Wells, coach at Upper Iowa, recently proposed a conference tournament on the straight elimination basis as the means of picking the team to represent the Iowa Conference at the National Collegiate basketball tournament.

Len Winter, coach at Loras, advanced a more sweeping change. He favored a division of the conference into two divisions, No. 30 as the dividing line. The teams north of the line would play a round-robin series' schedule with the teams below the line following a similar procedure. The two division winners would meet in a series to determine the championship.

FAREWELL

With these lines I close my career as your columnist. It was nice knowing you and more power to the Knights and Coach Van Dyke!

TROJANS AHEAD IN INTRAMURALS

Heronites Break Losing Streak; Badgers in Cellar.

Action has been hot and heavy in the second round of the Wartburg intramural basketball games. Play during the last two weeks has been especially close with several games having only one-point margins in the final score. On top of the heap are the smooth-working Trojans, losing none of their games while winning four. In second place are the Globe Trotters who have dropped only one game while playing three. The Lady Killers and the Heronites are tied for third place with two wins and two losses.

Standings ending Saturday, Feb. 15:

	W	L	Pct
Trojans	4	0	1.000
Globe Trotters	3	1	.750
Heronites	2	2	.500
Lady Killers	2	2	.500
Rowsebowlers	2	3	.400
Hughes Hotshots	1	3	.250
Badgers	1	4	.200

Trojans 36, Rowsebowlers 19

The Trojans opened their play in the second round of intramurals with a very impressive win over the champion Rowsebowlers, dropping them 36 to 19. The Trojans never were headed through the game. The Rowsebowlers made the majority all the way. Petersen led his team's scoring in 14 points. Hannon of the Rowsebowlers dropped in six.

Globe Trotters 34, Hotshots 19

The Hutchis Hotshots never had a chance as the Globe Trotters rubbed them out. 34-19. It was the second win of the round for the Globe Trotters. Diemer led the winners to victory with 11 points. Hannon of the Hotshots made eight points to lead their scoring.

Trojans 23, Badgers 18

The Trojans made it two straight in the second round at the expense of the Badgers, winning 23 to 18. The Badgers made it a game, but the way they came out in the second round was not very promising. The smooth-working Trojan quintet, Petersen again led his team's scoring with nine points. Mohr made six for the Badgers.

Lady Killers 26, Hotshots 22

The Lady Killers started their defense of second place honors with a 26 to 22 victory over the Hotshots. After three close quarters, the Killers pulled away in the last period, won down to defeat. Buehler was high for the victors with 10 points, while Vortmann made seven for the losers.

Globe Trotters 31, Rowsebowlers 17

The Rowsebowlers, champs of the first round, went down to defeat again, this time at the hands of the Globe Trotters, 31-17. The Globe Trotters were out to a quick start and never were headed. Harstad led the attack with 16 points, while Schuler made six for the losers.

Trojans 29, Heronites 17

Apparently heading for top honors in the second round, the Trojans made it three straight with a 29 to 17 victory over the Heronites. Unable to get going, the Heronites offered little resistance to the Trojans who gained a 17 to 4 lead at half time. LaBier and the Trojans, with nine points, Heron made six points to lead his team's scoring.

Lady Killers 23, Badgers 17

The Lady Killers made it two straight with a win over the renovated Badgers, 23 to 17. Leading at half time 13 to 9, the Killers came back strong after the intermission to stop the Badgers. Captain Laing connected for 11 points to lead his team. Harstad dropped in six for the Badgers.

Badgers 22, Rowsebowlers 21

The Badgers kept rolling and dropped the Rowsebowlers with a well deserved 22 to 21 thriller. After tugging at the half 9 to 9, the Badgers, led by Harstad, took over the lead with two minutes of the game left and sealed the victory. Harstad was the spear-head of the winners' attack, scoring 10 points. Wagner led the losers with six points.

Trojans 26, Lady Killers 25

In another one of those thrillers, the Trojans dropped the Lady Killers from the undefeated ranks 26 to 25. The Trojans went straight for the Petersen quintet. The game was a close affair, the Trojans winning the last five minutes hand several times. High for the winners was Petersen with 19 points. The loser was high for the losers with 14.

Heronites 34, Hotshots 27

The Heronites' upset of the Hughes Hotshots 34 to 27 ended their losing streak at seven games. During the game, the Heronites never were seriously threatened. Beck pushed in 18 points, while the winners made 14. Hotshots really went to town, making 20 points to lead the losers' scoring.

Hotshots 37, Badgers 32

Led by "Gulp" Winterfield, the Hotshots avenged their defeat by the Heronites with a 37 to 32 victory over the Badgers. Overcoming the Badgers' 2-0 start at half time, the victors controlled the ball most of the second half and made 14 of their 20 points in the last 10 minutes. Winterfield was high for the victors while Harstad "wowed" em" with 19 points for the victors.

Rowsebowlers 37, Lady Killers 34

The Rowsebowlers ended their losing streak at seven games, dropping the Lady Killers 34 to 37. After a close first quarter the Rowsebowlers were out to a 10-0 lead at half time. Reitz, a newcomer to intramurals, was high for the winners with 15 points. The losers were high for the losers with 14.

Heronites 32, Globe Trotters 28

The Heronites made it two straight with a 32 to 28 win over the Globe Trotters. The Globe Trotters tried valiantly to overtake the Heronites, but they were unable to. The scoring for the winners was evenly divided with Braunschweig leading the lot with seven points. Mierzen again led the "darkies" with 16 points.
